

High Studies in Fashion Design

▲ FASHION DESIGN

This course aims to produce professionals able to reproduce the designs of the stylist upon fabric to produce prototypes, finding employment in the same sectors: haute couture, prêt-à-porter, etc....

The far-reaching social and economic transformations of our century, which have led to the evolution of haute couture into mass production, have at the same time opened up a wide range of career opportunities for this profession, in both its artisanal and industrial aspect, taking into account their creative capacity.
